Dr. Drew E. Marshall

Join Us For One of Our Bible Studies At Trinity

Traditional Bible Study - Tuesdays at 6:00p.m.

Class Structure: Pastor Marshall teaches this class using a lecture format. Participants are encouraged to read the Chapters for each class prior to the session.

This class is designed to help the class gain insights into the original contextual interpretation of the scriptures. It also seeks to highlight the contemporary relevance and impact of the biblical text for contemporary Christians. The Holy Bible is the class text. The class is instructed from the King James Translation, however, participants are not restricted to the King James Version. Questions and comments may be shared with Pastor Marshall immediately following the class. Questions are not entertained during the presentation to maximize instruction time.

Currently we are nearing the completion of the Book of Acts.

The next biblical text for our Tuesday Night Bible Study will be the Gospel of John.

Wednesday Noon Class - 12:00p.m.

The Wednesday Noon Class will be predominantly lecture. Questions and comments however, will be entertained and limited. The class will be very similar to the Tuesday evening format. The Tuesday Evening and Wednesday Noon class will be from the same book in the Bible. We began this new class studying the 4th Gospel. The book of John.

Wednesday Evening Class – 7:00p.m.

The Wednesday Evening class begins at 7:00p.m. and conclude at 8 o'clock. This Bible Study will have a slightly different format. The class will be taught from the Bible and there will also be a class text/workbook that will provide the basic structure for the class. The text/workbook will be optional. Class participants will be actively involved in the class. Questions and assignments will be given each week.

Students will be encouraged to keep pace with reading assignments.

We began the Wednesday Evening Bible Study with the book of Ephesians. This is Paul's epistle to the church at Ephesus. It is filled with practical application and doctrine for fruitful Christian living in the 21st century.
